How much do solar panels cost?

As of 2025, the average cost of residential solar panels in the U.S. is between $15,000 and $25,000 before incentives. This typically translates to about $2.50 to $3.50 per watt of installed capacity (more on price per watt below). The total price depends on your system size, location, roof type, and installer.

What is a solar quotation system?

The solar quotation system includes a straightforward customer relationship management (CRM) system that perfectly meets the needs of solar panel companies. Overbuilt systems can often complicate the process rather than streamline it.

What is a solar roof?

Solar Roof is comprised of both glass solar tiles and steel roofing tiles. Glass solar tiles produce energy, while architectural-grade steel tiles add longevity and corrosion resistance to your roof. Both are durable, strong and engineered for all-weather protection.

Does solar roof have a warranty?

With a 25-year warranty, Solar Roof will continue to produce clean energy and protect your home for decades to come. Solar Roof is comprised of both glass solar tiles and steel roofing tiles. Glass solar tiles produce energy, while architectural-grade steel tiles add longevity and corrosion resistance to your roof.

What is the relative cost of solar energy?

Another measure of the relative cost of solar energy is its price per kilowatt-hour (kWh). Whereas the price per watt considers the solar system's size, the price per kWh shows the price of the solar system per unit of energy it produces over a given period of time. Net cost of the system / lifetime output = cost per kilowatt hour.
